

New-York

NEW-YORK, FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1884.

VOL. XLIV.—NO. 13,753.

DEMOCRACY ALL AT SEA.

ALL THE CANDIDATES PRESENTED.

MORE LIFE IN THE CONVENTION—RANDALL AND HOADLEY PRESENTED—A PLATINUM REPORTED.

The Democratic National Convention showed more signs of life yesterday. The names of Samuel J. Randall and Governor Hoadley were added to the list of candidates for the Presidential nomination. Hoadley, it is understood, was brought forward in the interest of Cleveland, with the purpose of weakening Thurman. The Cleveland men were encouraged by the fierce reply of General Bragg to the attack of Grady and Cockran. In the evening Congressman Morrison presented the report of the Committee on Resolutions. A large part of the report is devoted to criticism of the Republican party. It pledges the Democratic party to revise the tariff without injuring any domestic industries, favors the repeal of all laws restricting the free action of labor; believes the public lands should be kept for homesteads for actual settlers, and favors improvement of the Mississippi River by the Government. A minority platform was reported by General Butler, which favored among other things, a tribunal to settle labor troubles. At a late hour balloting began, and a vote was taken with the subjunctive result:

THE FIRST VOTE FOR PRESIDENT.

CLEVELAND HAS 389 VOTES—BAYARD HAS 179.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.)

CHICAGO, July 11.—The convention began to take the first ballot on President at midnight. The result was as follows:

Cleveland—392.

Carlisle—27.

Bayard—170.

Thurman—88.

Hoadley—78.

Randall—78.

McDonald—56.

Heads—3.

Graves—1.

Heads—1.

McDonald—56.

Heads—1.

McDonald—56.